

POEM

CREDO for a dying Association (with gratitude to Ben Okri)

Brian Thorne

We dared
To chance our minds
Embraced our hearts
Revealed our wounds
Courted danger
Imagination
We found friends
Treasured groups

The world seemed ripe
For transformation

A community
Was born
With hope and purpose
Change agents for
A better life
We longed to see
Heaven on earth

Pain we did not shun
But death was not our plan
Hope lies beyond despair
Death demands new vision

Our love can
Save the world
If we can live it
Eternally
